

AISLi Charter for Associate Members

Associate members of AISLi are committed to supporting and promoting quality in language education.

They undertake to:

Take part in AISLi activities and contribute to the achievement of the association's aims.

Have clear public statements of their commitment to quality in their domain of activity, in the form of charters, codes of practice or other appropriate documents.

Implement appropriate and effective procedures for quality assurance and control.

Take account of, and where is relevant, comply with and implement, the principles of the Common European Framework of Reference.

Institute appropriate complaints and grievance procedures for users of their services.

Provide AISLi with an annual report demonstrating their involvement in AISLi activities.